HUMANITIES TEXAS TEACHER PROFESSIONAL DEVELOPMENT WEBINAR

April 4, 2023 ----- “I Hear America Singing”: Poetry, Patriotism,
5:00–6:15 pm and These United States
Coleman Hutchison, The University of Texas at Austin

COLEMAN HUTCHISON is an associate professor of English at The University of Texas at Austin, where he teaches courses in nineteenth-century U.S. literature and culture, bibliography and textual studies, and poetry and poetics. He is the author of Apples and Ashes: Literature, Nationalism, and the Confederate States of America (Georgia, 2012), the co-author of Writing About American Literature: A Guide for Students (Norton, 2014), the editor of A History of American Civil War Literature (Cambridge, 2015), and the co-editor of the Cambridge Companion to the Literature of the American Civil War & Reconstruction (Cambridge, 2022). In addition to a MA and PhD in English from Northwestern University, Professor Hutchison earned a BS in education from Vanderbilt University’s Peabody College. As a result, literary pedagogy, curriculum development, and the digital humanities remain abiding interests. Hutchison has helped to develop a number of digital teaching tools, including a “Song of Myself” audiotext (<http://www.laits.utexas.edu/leavesofgrass/>), the Close Reading Interpretive Tool (<https://laits.utexas.edu/crit/>), and the Critical Reader’s Toolkit (<http://www.criticalreaderstoolkit.org>). In 2010 Hutchison received a UT System Regents’ Outstanding Teaching Award and in 2015 a President’s Associates Teaching Excellence Award.
